CENTRALIAN

FOREWORD

May 1, 1942

CHS

Dear Friends:

We have just boarded our clipper plane and are winging over dear old Central, leaving behind all the familiar scenes of our high school days to continue our education on a sister continent.

We are headed for the land of siestas and fiestas, gauchos and pampas, moonlight and laughter; but the countries we plan to visit cannot be strange to us for they are as truly democratic and friendly as our own.

In Latin America we shall attempt to capture the spirit of "Manana" that may soon depart with the advance of war. It is our hope that in our souvenir to you, The Pan American Centralian, we have done this.

Yours sincerely,

THE STAFF.

COMMORAMOS

On November 18, Central students learned, in an impressive memorial service, of the death of Miss Beaumont during the summer vacation on Sunday, August 10. Miss Beaumont had suffered from a heart difficulty for many years and had been compelled to take a leave of absence on several occasions. During her extended period of illness, she was constantly making plans to return to her classes in shorthand and typing. To continue her work at Central was her most cherished wish.

Miss Beaumont was one of a family of old settlers in St. Joseph, Missouri, where her family had been engaged actively in the business and political life of the town. She came to Kansas City twenty-three years ago to accept a position in Central High School. For several years before her illness, she was head of the Shorthand and Typing Department.

During several of her summer vacations, Miss Beaumont enjoyed attending the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Wisconsin. She had traveled in Europe, in the eastern and southern parts of the United States, and was looking forward to another trip to the Pacific Coast. On her travels she was interested primarily in the life of the people, their habits and customs.

Although Miss Beaumont was known to only a few students of the 1942 senior class, she will be remembered by the many former students who had loved and admired her and will long be missed by members of the faculty.

Students and teachers alike were shocked November 12 to learn that their friend, Miss Hammond, had died during the night; yet they were glad that she could take leave of the world as she would have wished, quietly in her sleep and after a pleasant evening with a former pupil. For fifteen years Miss Hammond had watched over Central students with hearing and speaking difficulties. She was their teacher and friend, not only helping them in time of need at school and at home, but keeping in touch with many of them for years after graduation. Her broad interests, genuine humanity, and genial temper made her also a treasured friend of the faculty members.

Miss Hammond was born in Olathe, Kansas, where her father was superintendent of a school for the deaf. She taught in the same school until 1921 when she began her work of helping the hard-of-hearing at Madison School. She then came to Central and Central Junior, dividing her time each day between the two schools where she helped her special students to adjust to the difficulties of high school classes and activities. The influence of her good life lives on after her.

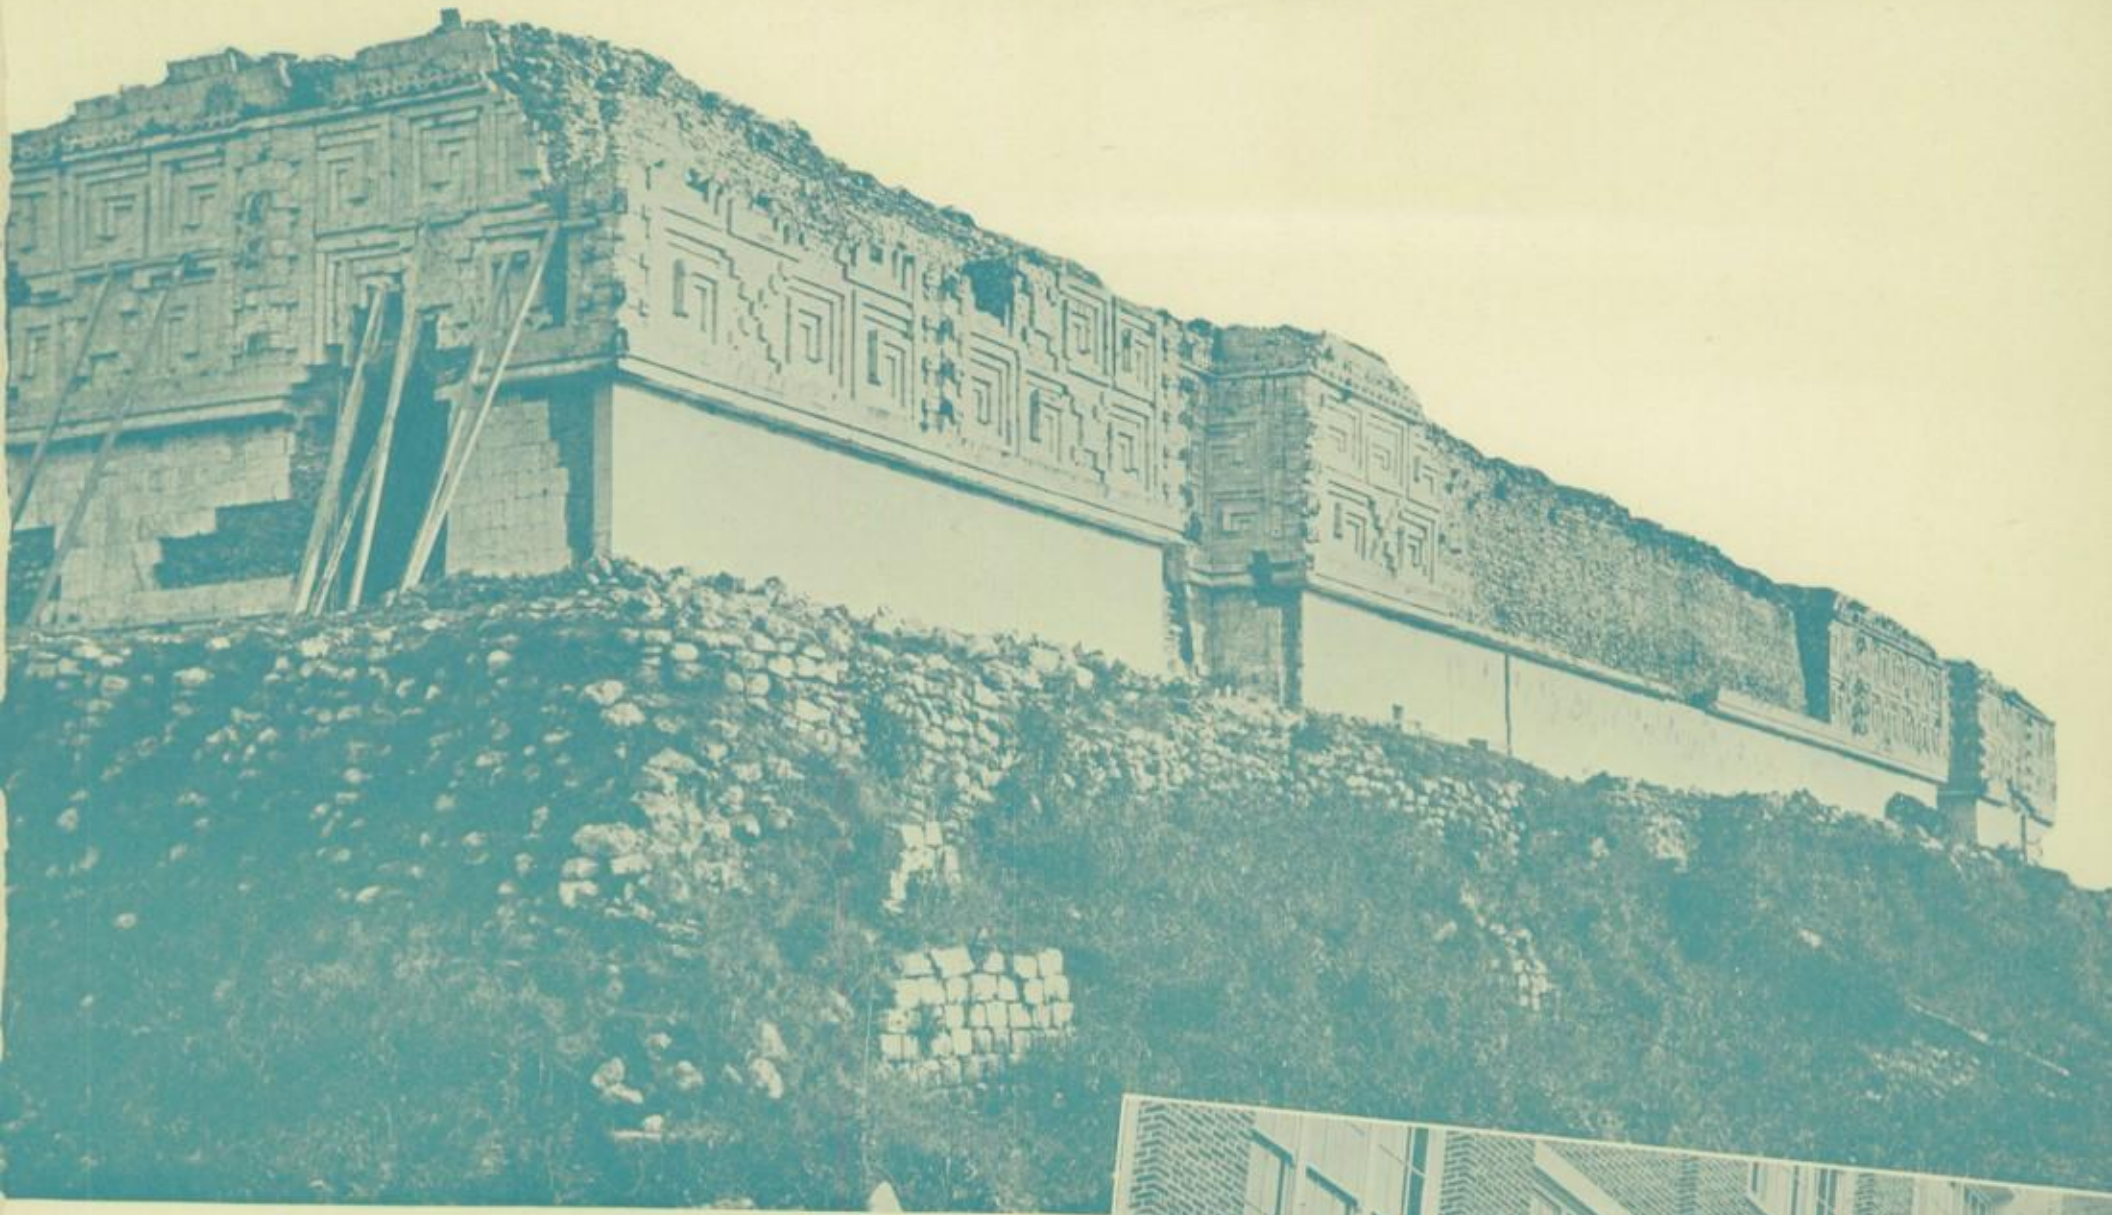

To Central

*Dear old Central, far-famed Central,
Thou shalt never fail;
Round thy name there clings a tendril
Of tradition's tale.*

CHORUS

*Thou art victor; fame has followed,
Clad in dignity;
May thy name to all be hallowed
By our love for thee.*

*Every student soon or later
In his walk of life
Greets the thought of Alma Mater
As his strength in strife.*

Interpretes

(FACULTY)

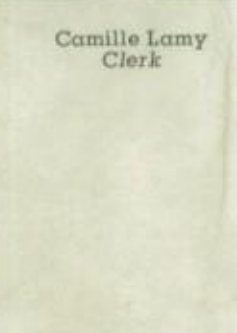

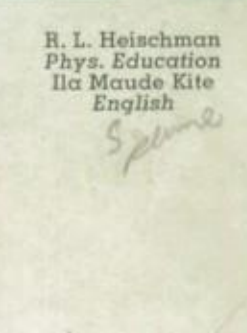

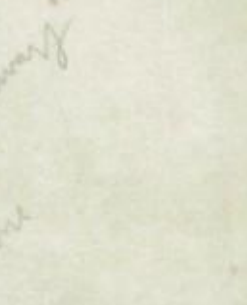

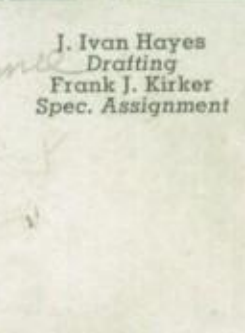

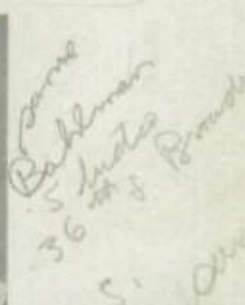

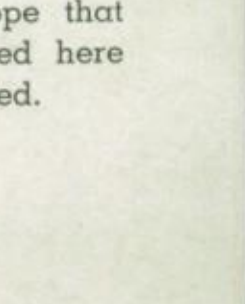

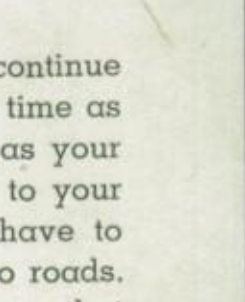

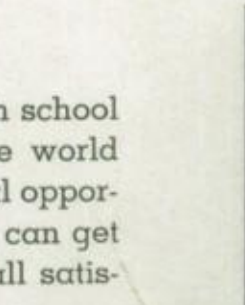

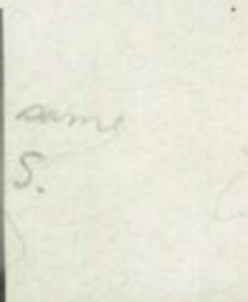

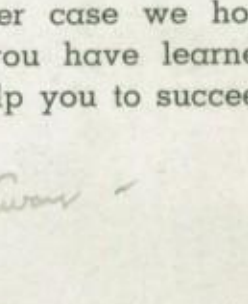

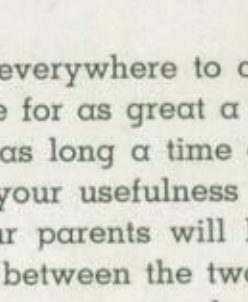

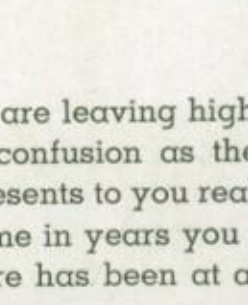

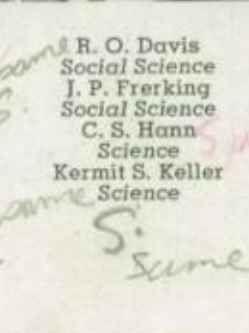

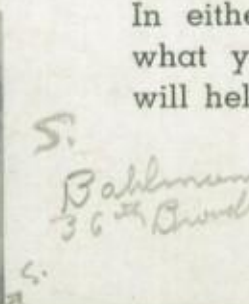

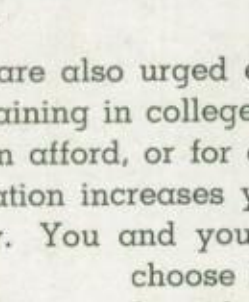

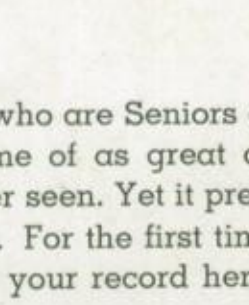

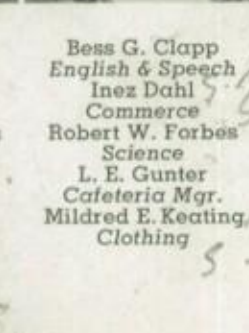

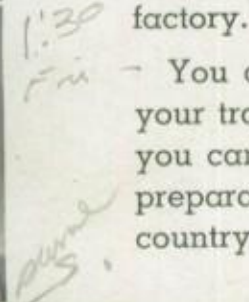

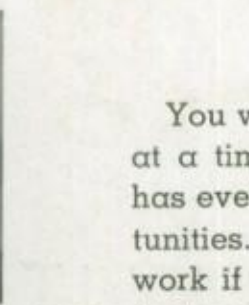

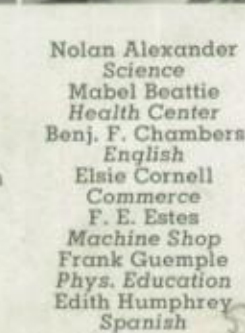

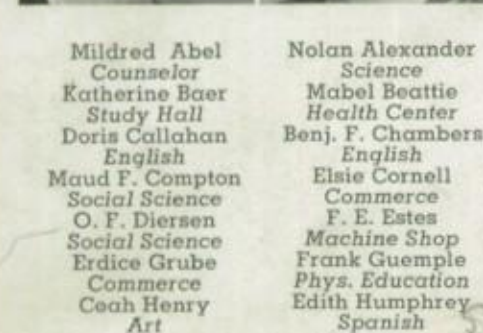

At the Mexican border
we first saw interpreters.
They seemed to know everything. Our entire trip was made both pleasant and profitable by these interpreters who made us appreciate the things we saw.

You who are Seniors are leaving high school at a time of as great confusion as the world has ever seen. Yet it presents to you real opportunities. For the first time in years you can get work if your record here has been at all satisfactory.

You are also urged everywhere to continue your training in college for as great a time as you can afford, or for as long a time as your preparation increases your usefulness to your country. You and your parents will have to choose between the two roads. In either case we hope that what you have learned here will help you to succeed.

FACULTY

C. O. Williams,
Vice-Principal

Just a few more weeks and we shall have finished another school year. Such great changes have taken place during this time that few of us can realize the turmoil in which the world is. The most destructive of all wars is being waged; democracy, with its ideals and methods, is being challenged by dictatorships. Hatred, suspicion and jealousy are maliciously taking advantage of love, confidence and fellowship.

On youth falls the burden of bringing order out of this chaos. It is our duty and yours to overthrow the enemy; but yours to establish the new order of brotherhood and equality which will assure a lasting peace.

Youth will have the strength and intelligence to succeed. Each of you has an important part in the reconstruction. Search diligently for it and assume the responsibility. The future of the world is in your hands.

STUDENT COUNCIL

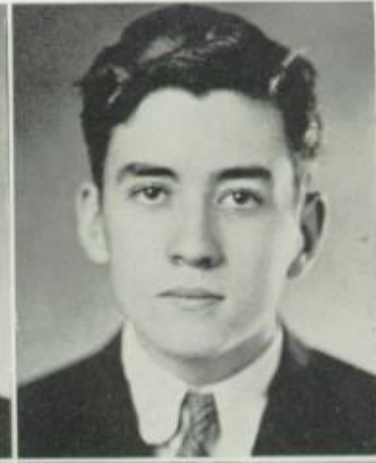

Due to the hearty backing of the school, this year was an extremely successful one for the student governing body. It carried through the tasks facing it with flying colors. In every field of endeavor—activity ticket sales, mixers, assemblies, Centralian sales and others—it had favorable results.

In addition to its regular activities the Central Student Council of 1941-42 has to its record the successful management of the coathanger drive, the promotion of Pan-American day, and the founding of the Central Pep Club. The crowning achievement of the council was, however, the production of the first Variety Night to be entirely managed by the students.

The other first term officers were: sergeant-at-arms, Joe Rodier; critic, Bob Stahl. Other second term officers were: sergeant-at-arms, Jean Richardson; critic, Joe Gaba.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Hola, amigos! Here we are making a tour of Mexico City with the seniors, and quite an eventful trip it has been! We've visited the Indian ruins, spent our meager allowance at souvenir booths in the market place, and scorched the walls of our tummies with genuine Mexican tamales that make the United States version of the same delicacy seem as soothing as ice cream cones. And we've topped our visit off by occupying the ringside seats at a bullfight which must have featured one of Ferdinand's close relatives, in view of the fact that this event was tamer than the rootin' tootin' seniors had expected. But it's been a tiring day, to say the least, and we're all ready for a siesta. Now we're gathered in front of the hotel, waiting while our chaperon counts her flock. Today she's double-checking, and upon inquiring we find that one senior is missing from the

We went out looking

soon found some.
We talked to these

ry to expectations found traces of intelligence.

Class of 1943

Time out, senores y senoritas! Let's leave those sophisticated seniors to poke among the Aztec ruins of Mexico while we skip over to Brazil, where we find that brilliant (?) class of '43 traipsing nonchalantly through the jungle of the Amazon. Their journey is Modlin and Bill Lawing with drum majorette Marilyn Ballinger. The work-worn "sophs" paused for a brief rest before sending in declaiming Judy Neal, poetic Steve Ward, and extemping Betty Jo Horn to represent their respective literary societies in the 1941 Intercity Contest. Meanwhile, Francis Sartori was winning flute and piano awards in the music contests at Columbia, Missouri. Mary McGowan and Bill Lawing gained recognition as members of the "Spring Fever" cast.

El tiempo vuela. Comes the school year of 1941-42, and don't look now but here come our friends, the juniors. Ward, Sherwin, and Jennings carried the pigskin for bigger and better gridiron contests. Barbara Hargis, Marilyn Ballinger, Johnny Modlin, Mary McGowan, and Bob Criger inspired audiences with their performances in the Variety Night of 1941, and close on their heels came Buck Cramer, Meyer Mazon, Claude Sherwin and Steve Ward dribbling down the Municipal Auditorium courts . . .

Ah, yes, those were the days—the days before the work-weary juniors decided to make this vacation hike up the Amazon. But stop—away with reminiscences, for there is impending danger on the Amazon front. The juniors are faced by a flock of jaguars (do they run in flocks?). The juniors' lives are at stake! In heaven's name, won't some brave soul give up his measly life and fight off the animals to enable his classmates to escape? Do we hear any volunteers? No. . . . The juniors must resort to conscription. As the interested jaguars look on, the terrified juniors quickly take a vote, and as Jean McCowan reads the results, President Bill Jennings and Aides Johnny Modlin, Beverly Bundy, and Barbara Hargis step forth with determination to defeat their four-pawed foes and lead the Class of '43 out of the wilderness of the Amazon.

leisurely, and as they trudge through the wilderness in search of zoology specimens, they find their minds floating back to their good old freshmen days. Yes, sir, those freshmen of 1939-40 flew high, wide, and handsome. And who wouldn't, with President Pat Hughes, Vice-President Claude Sherwin, Secretary Shirley Trump, and Treasurer Bob Twin as flight commanders.

And now the juniors' memories jog unevenly and with frequent detours across the lazy summer to recall their first day of senior high school—when they were officially dubbed "Little Sophs" by condescending upper classmen. But those sophomores of 1940-41 weren't to be stopped, as the rest of the school soon realized when Steve Ward, Bill Jennings, and Claude Sherwin strutted their stuff with the football Eaglets. Undaunted, Buck Cramer, Meyer Mazon, Steve Ward, and Claude Sherwin showed all comers just how to play basketball. Spurring the boys on at the games were cheerleaders Johnny

(HOME ROOMS)

URUGUAY

⑦

In Uruguay the corrales are the favorite places for throwing the bull. We found a nice looking young gaucho but could not talk to him as he was so wrapped up in his work.

"Papa's Little Helper (?)"

Mr. Salmon and Peggy Sue Ewell, librarian.

The homerooms this year have made it possible to carry out a number of projects. As always, the activity ticket and Centralian sales were made in the homerooms by the installment plan. All sorts of defense work, such as knitting, the selling of defense stamps, collecting stamps for dye and aiding in the coat hanger drive were accomplished. Some rooms sang war songs every week and wrote to soldiers. Each class did its best to be 100 per cent in the purchase of Luminaries and in the bringing in of clean-up slips. All class elections had their beginnings in these divisions.

To all our "good neighbors" at Central,

Who, by their co-operation and understanding, have transformed our dream of a 1942 Pan-American Centralian into a reality:

To all our advisors, and especially to Miss Lewis, who all year kept us moving toward our goal, and to Miss Humphrey, without whom we could not have interpreted ourselves to our neighbors or them to us;

To the typing classes, who put our "stuff" into print;

To the band, that helped make our campaign such a success, and to Bobbie Wed-kind and Bob Line who planned the campaign;

To Stanley Louis, Bill Bucher, Ted Prout, and Helen Brenner for their fine support of the regular art staff;

To Mr. Watson and his sales force, with an extra word for Bud French, Pete Daniels, Calvin Keen, and George Robertson, for their "super" salesmanship;

And finally, to each and every Centralite, for whom this book was made and whose spirit it embodies—

Gracias!

The Central Pep Club was organized this year in the early part of the football season. There had been many previous attempts to organize such a club, but none had been successful. The enthusiasm of Jim Brooks, Bob Criger and Dick Sherman, together with the whole-hearted cooperation of "Doc" Heischman put this one over. The club now has a membership of over 300 students.

New songs and cheers were composed, and the club met at least four times early in its existence to practice with the cheer leaders. At the games the boys, whose sweaters were blue with white emblems, formed a "C" in the center of a background of girls, whose sweaters were white with blue emblems.

President,
Jim Brooks.

Life Work Selected By Seniors

In analyzing answers to the questions on vocational choices on the Ohio Senior test some very significant points were noted.

Out of approximately 1,600 seniors in the last three years, 200 students gave either secretarial or stenographic work as their occupational choice. Seventy-two of the 1941-42 seniors expressed a desire to enter the secretarial field.

Other choices, good per cent of year aspect only 6 per cent employed are.

Of the boy year 18 per cent yet only 7 per cent played are old.

Other illustrations may be point students of clear picture classification of States, the fell figures give percent of those various fields seniors.

Students Prepare Talent Show

"Varsity Vagaries," Central's 1942 talent show, will soon be here. Two weeks from tonight Dec. 12 and 13 the Company to two students out of the 1942 graduating classes of the Kansas City high schools.

Those selected may be either boys or girls who meet the qualifications. Such students must be desirous of a higher education, and should have high scholastic records. They should be of good character, unable to finance their higher education without assistance and should preferably have been active in extra-curricular activities.

A sum of $350 is given the freshman year, $200 the sophomore year, $150 the next and $100 the following one or, a total of $800 for the four years.

Requirements for the continuance of the scholarship after the freshman year are the maintenance of good grades and a generally satisfactory record. Granting of the additional scholarship will be based on reports at the end of each year from the dean of the college.

P-TA Supports Clothes Drive

One of the many helpful projects of the P-TA is their work at the Mutual Help center.

When the Mutual Help committee discovers a child apparently in need of warm clothing, the chairman of the committee investigates the family. If the need is verified, clothes are provided.

Clothing is brought in through the schools and mended at the Center. Central's sewing day is the fourth Tuesday in every month.

It has been the custom to have a "used clothes day" during the school year when these garments were to be brought in. This year the special day has been eliminated; the drive is on during the whole year and the clothes may be brought in at any time. Warm clothing is needed most of all now, but any kind will be gratefully received.

To Discuss Problems

Problems of modern education—its good points and faults are to be talked over at the next meeting of the Central Student council. Representatives are urged to carry the results of these discussions to their respective home rooms.

Charles Comstock, Bob Stalger and Jean Richardson, representatives from

Coach Harry Slaymaker introduced members of the team, adding a lot of interesting football experience concerning each boy. The players on the other teams in the league are introduced by Kenny White, vice-president of the Hi-Y. After this, each boy introduced his dad to the group.

Both the boys and their dads joined the group singing of "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "I Want a Girl" and "Home on the Range." Chuck Comstock welcomed the football players, the fathers and the various members of the faculty. Bud French, captain of the All-star football team, accepted the welcome in half of the team and the dads.

Following the invocation given by Rev. Fredrick, dinner, prepared by the men of the church, was served. Next Monday's meeting will be held at the First Lutheran church, Thirtieth and Benton, at 7:30 p. m.

Introduction

As the Good Neighbor Policy is strengthened within each sister continent by affairs continually occurring in lands across the seas, so is this section a result of honors attained by students within Central through events outside the school's sphere.

It is therefore fitting to the South American theme that this section appear for the first time in the 1942 yearbook. It is dedicated to those students who, while representing Central, received high-ranking award or participated in outstanding events outside of Central's halls.

* * * * *

Drama students presented December 13 the second of a series of radio broadcasts designed to inform the public of the history of their public schools . . . The National Music Contest held at Topeka, Kansas, in May, 1941, for high school music students gave first place titles to five Central students: James Lerch, violin; Betty Rice, cello; Frances Sartori, flute; Sebe Sarser, cello; R. C. Fulton, trumpet . . . Bud French was awarded the Nigro Notre-Dame trophy as the outstanding Kansas City high school athlete . . . Jean Koutelas and Sarah Levin were the first students to obtain the 120-words-a-minute shorthand awards this year . . . Marian Mowry was elected as Central's representative in the nationwide Daughters of the American Revolution Contest this year. Marian ranked first in the city and third in the state . . . Boys chosen from volunteers in the woodwork classes began March 2 to construct model airplanes to meet the quota prescribed for Central for use in National Defense work . . . Four students attained recognition in the Centralian art poster contest, held for all Central art students in February . . . Fourteen girls, chosen mainly on scholarship rating, represent Central in the University Women's Club, organized to help these girls select proper high school courses and colleges . . . Eight debate teams from the public speaking department represented Central in debates with other high schools during the year . . . Two groups of students selected each semester compose Central's membership in the All-City High School Student Council, organized last fall to promote inter-school cooperation.

PERU

While at Lima we watched a bullfight. Everybody was there - the men to see the bullfight and the women to see the bullfighter. When the matador stuck the bull the men cheered. When the bull stuck the matador the ladies swooned.

French and Coach Slaymaker after a successful season.

Football

On Friday of the second week of school, the hard-hitting, hard-charging Blue Eagles, edition of 1941, invaded Kansas to tangle with the Wyandotte Bulldogs. With the powerful flood lights shining on them, the Blue Eagles resplendent in their new blue uniforms and the Bulldogs in their red ones stood at attention while the two school bands combined to play the "Star Spangled Banner" to open officially the 1941 season. Although the Central backs were stopped by the powerful Wyandotte defense, the line held their highly touted running attack to 12 points. Captain Bud French and center Harley Cox proved themselves heroes in defeat as they smashed through to bring down, time and again, the Bulldog ball-carriers . . . Wyandotte 12, Central 0.

Then came the unexpected . . . Led by Angelo Passantino, the Southeast Knights came off the field with a moral victory as they held the favored Blue Eagles to a 6-6 tie. Bud French went over late in the fourth quarter behind the blocking of John Marino to give Central its first touchdown of the year.

White grits his way through against Northeast.

Winning their first game of the season was the team's experience the following week as they took the measure of the powerful Northeast Vikings in one of the hardest fought games of the year . . . Bud French went through center in the second quarter for the only touchdown of the game, and that's the way it ended with Central's line completely bottling up Northeast's passing and running attacks . . . Central 7, Northeast 0.

Paseo was next on the list. Throughout the first quarter Paseo's backs, working off the T-formation, completely baffled the Blue Eagle linemen, and several times got away for good gains. However, in the next three quarters Central entirely dominated play, on the offense as well as on the defense. Kenny White and Bud French led the Eagle running attack to three touchdowns and Ronald Mattingly, a guard, fell on a blocked punt behind the Pirate goal line for the fourth and last touchdown of the game for Central . . . Central 25, Paseo 7.

Although the Southwest Indians were able to penetrate the Blue Eagle 40-yard line but twice in the entire game, they capitalized on one of these advances and with the aid of a 15-yard penalty they scored and kicked the extra point midway in the second quarter . . . Central's score came in the first quarter when after a 56-yard advance French went over the center from the 5-yard line for a touchdown. The conversion was unsuccessful, and it later proved to be the margin of victory for Southwest. Central played and fought hard but the breaks went against her . . . Central 6, Southwest 7.

Where's the ball? Goshorn and French.

Look out ahead—Kenny White picks up yardage.

The Westport Tigers came, saw, and were conquered by an inspired Blue Eagle team 19-0. Behind the aggressive blocking of Jerry Lewis and Orville Jarman, Bud Trost, Chuck O'Dowd and Kenny White all went over for touchdowns. The line played magnificently as they stopped almost every thrust into Eagle territory.

Rockhurst, a well-balanced, powerful grid machine, then invaded Central. Pre-game statistics indicated this to be a great battle. And that it was. With Kenny White and Jerry Lewis going over for touchdowns, and the Eagle line holding the Hawklets back to small gains, Central came out on the long end of a 13-0 score for the second straight year.

Returning to league warfare the next week, with nine of the starting lineup playing their last game for Central, the Blue Eagles defeated the East Bears 13-0. Led by Kenny White, Bud Trost, Jerry Lewis and Bud French, the Eagles racked up 319 yards from scrimmage compared with the 54 yards made by East. Kenny White went over for the first touchdown early in the second quarter and repeated his performance at the start of the second half.

Then came the climax with the naming of Harley Cox, Bud French, Calvin Keen and Bob McDaniel to the All-Star first team and Jack Hunt and Jerry Lewis to the All-Star second team. Bud French was named Captain of the All-Star aggregation and later received the Nigro-Notre Dame award . . . It was truly a great season and an even greater team.

Three lettermen and two second team men composed Central's starting lineup as it faced the powerful Alumni quintet in the first game of the season. With Ed Welsh hitting thirteen points from the field and Meyer Mazon and Gil Woerner playing brilliant defensive games, the Blue Eagles held the Alumni to a 32-47 win. This game marked the start of one of the best shooting teams ever developed by Coach Guemple.

Pem-Day was next and the Eagles racked up their first win of the year, 32-18. Ed Welsh was again high man with fourteen points, scoring several set-ups as he received the ball from Bud French.

With Bud French putting in three points in the last few moments of the game, Central took the measure of a well-balanced Rockhurst five by the score of 22-19.

Although the score was tied throughout most of the first half, Wyandotte, with Freddie Laird at the helm, came back to trounce Central's quintet 31-11.

Hal Cramer, with eleven points, led the Eagles to a victory over the Ward Cyclones, 29-22.

Bottom: French breaks it up. Time out—McHenry, Woerner, Martin, Welsh and French. A bit of strenuous practice.

(Right)—French bows out at season's end.

William Chrisman was the next foe and Central, with both French and Welsh scoring eight points from the field, took home another win to the tune of 27-19.

The Blue Eagles next opened the Interscholastic League season by being handed a surprise defeat, 24-28, at the hands of the clever-passing East Bears. Although Central led throughout most of the first half, Nelson and Hart started putting them in from way out and sewed up the game when they poured three points through the hoop just before the final gun sounded.

Central came back the next week with blood in its eye to set a new 1942 scoring record and to set Manual back on its heels with a 45-29 defeat. Thirty-two fouls were committed in one of the hardest fought games of the year.

Led by big Kenny Bounds, who scored fourteen points, Northeast's Vikings avenged a stunning football setback to hand out a 23-28 defeat to Central. One bright spot in the game, however, was Martin's five consecutive points to put Central back in the running midway in the fourth quarter.

For the second straight week Central set a new record as Hal Cramer swished the nets for nineteen points to lead Central to a 32-14 win over Paseo.

With a 19-13 lead at the half, Southwest unleashed a brilliant attack which netted nineteen points before the period ended and flashed an impenetrable defense to hold the Eagles to only one point. Southwest held its lead and came out with a 38-30 win.

Inaccuracy at the free throw line cost Westport a win over Central as Westport sank only five charity tosses to Central's twelve. It was anybody's game up until the last few seconds, but the Eagles came out victorious 20-19.

At the next game seven seniors wore the Blue and White for the last time and did a very good job. Led by McHenry and Welsh, the Blue Eagles trounced the Southeast Knights 34-21. Bud French got four markers to help compile a season's total of sixty-four points to lead the league.

Then came the good news. French had been elected to the All-Star team for the second straight year, and Cramer was the center on the All-Star second team.

It was a good team, always out there giving its best, and that's what counts. It's a team we've a right to be proud of.

Track

With Hal Cramer, Bud French, Bob McHenry, and Norman Sudvarg competing again this year, Coach Slaymaker will have a strong nucleus around which to build another powerful track squad.

Starting with the hurdle races, Richard Anderson, "State Champion" Bud French, "Goose" Goshorn, and Calvin Keen should bring in a lot of points in the high and low hurdles.

Bill Sidebothom, a very promising sophomore, and veteran Norman Sudvarg will be our very potent 1-2 punch in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Big Hal Cramer, Bob Foster, and Kenny White have been looking very good in the 440 and should win some important races.

The gruelling 880 finds senior George Robertson and juniors Claude Sherwin and Dudley Wren representing Central.

Our relay team placed fourth in the special K. C. relay at the K. U. Relays, with Sidebothom running first, Sudvarg second, Cramer third, and French anchor. It can and should be one of the fastest teams in the city.

In the shot put, "Bud" French, Lyle McDonald, and Chuck O'Dowd are showing the power and form which it takes to throw that twelve pound ball.

Bob McHenry has proven himself one of the best pole vaulters in the city. He has accounted for many of the Central points. Richard Anderson, a junior, has also accounted for many points. Charles Davis, a junior, is sharing in the vaulting honors.

Louis Martin, Charles Davis, and Fred Prudden are the boys representing Central in the high jump. Davis and Prudden are underclassmen.

Harold Ambrosius, Bob McHenry, Chuck O'Dowd, Claude Sherwin, and Kenny White have represented Central in the broad jump at various meets.

Top, Right: "French over the top."

Middle: "Sherwin tries for twenty."

Bottom, Right: "Up and over"—McHenry watched by Anderson.

Tennis

Early last fall, an inexperienced squad of six men entered the interscholastic tournament, and although they didn't win, the team as a whole showed a great deal of promise. Bob Hay, the number one singles man, advanced to the second round, and Brock and Dale Reubart went to the quarter finals where the ultimate champions "took their measure." Next year, however, with four squad men returning and with Mr. Alexander as their coach, Central's tennis future again looks bright.

Golf

The golf team was given a bad blow this year when, through some unforeseen circumstances, Central did not have a participant in the state golf meet. However, Bill Krause, Oscar Pinsker, Kenny Davidson and Robert Peters entered the city tournament as a team and came in fifth. Bill Krause averaged in the low seventies and Oscar Pinsker 81 to lead our team individually. Coach Guemple, however, has high hopes for the team in the coming spring meet.

Intramural

For the past few years the intramural program has been offering opportunities for competitive sports to those boys who for some reason are unable to take part in interscholastic activities.

In order that the different teams may be more evenly matched, they are divided into two divisions, a sophomore division and a junior-senior league.

Touch football and baseball occupy the spotlight in the fall, the games being played after school either on the "black-top" or in Central Park.

Ping-pong starts in the fall also, reaching full swing about the time winter sets in and continuing until school is out.

As soon as the football season is over, intramural basketball comes into the limelight. Two games are played at once, using the four baskets at the sides of the court for the goals. Approximately six to eight games are played every afternoon.

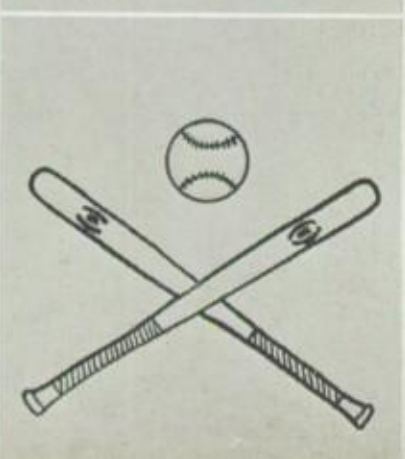

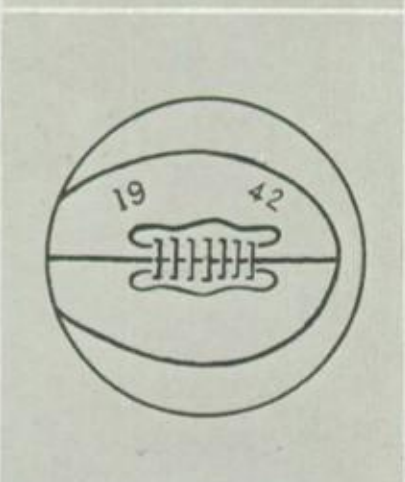

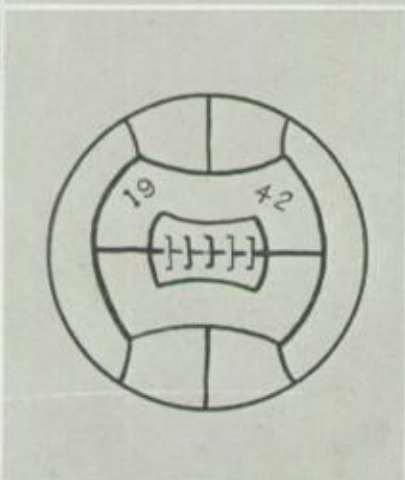

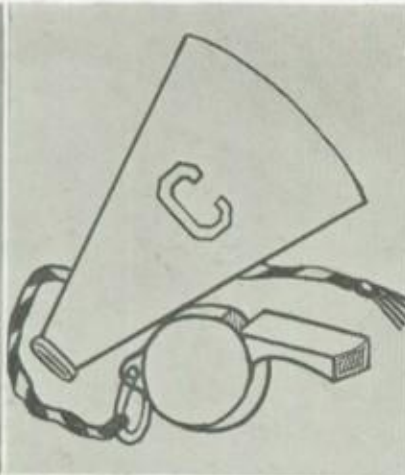

With the coming of spring and warm weather, the different gym classes take to the out-of-doors to compete in the inter-class meets.

As soon as these events have been run off, softball again takes over throughout the spring and up until the end of school.

This very broad program of sports proves to be a great source of enjoyment to the participants, thanks to the able leadership of "Doc" Heischman.

Girls' Sports

Sportsmanship was the watch word in the gym department this year, and every girl endeavored to live up to the full meaning of the word.

Playdays came and went with victories and losses alike. The teams were not all successful, but Central has every right to be proud of the girls. They used clean sportsmanship and played a "heads-up" game at all times.

Hockey, volleyball, basketball, baseball and intramural sports got off to an enthusiastic start due to the unlimited co-operation of the student managers. Skillful organization of the schedule by Miss Hazel Purnell and Miss Hazel Roads contributed greatly to the success.

PANAMA

This shows the resourcefulness of the American soldier. We assured him that the American people and especially Central High School were solidly behind him.

R. O. T. C. 1941-'42

Cadet Major
David Finke

Staff Sergeant
Carl Spikes

1941 and '42 marked another good year for Central's Blue Eagle Battalion.

Little time was lost at the beginning of the year as the cadets worked diligently to earn permanent positions for themselves in their companies. The first promotion list held the names of Harold Browning, Charles Comstock, Jack Ditzler, David Finke, Dick Hudson, James Kaut, Lester Kessler, Jack Kresse, James Lerch, George McLaird, Milton Pesch, Bob Sante, and Bob Stahl as second lieutenants.

As the fall changed to winter, the battalion experienced a number of different things. Our country had gone to war, making the purpose of R. O. T. C. all the more important. The battalion's Blue Eagles had won the Round Robin Rifle Match for the third consecutive year.

The seventeenth of December found Major Finke as the battalion commander, and Captains Kessler, Hudson, Lerch, and Ditzler as company commanders. First Lieutenant Sante had become the battalion adjutant, and Eugene Stinson joined the ranks of second lieutenants.

As in past years our officers attended the fall hop of the Kansas University R. O. T. C. unit.

When the sale of Defense Stamps was begun throughout the school, the R. O. T. C. displayed more of its patriotism by not only leading the school in the sale of Stamps but also by running a feature advertisement in each issue of the Luminary urging everyone to buy Defense Stamps.

As the highlight of the year the battalion held its Eighteenth Annual Military Ball, March the twenty-eighth in the gymnasium, patriotically bedecked in red, white, and blue. Miss Jean Richardson reigned as queen while Miss Georgia Scott and Miss Barbara Spear served as her aides.

In the course of the year the need of officers was satisfied with the appointment of Jay Carduff and Sam Kusnetzky as second lieutenants.

As this book goes to press the final and clinching factors of a successful year are still in balance. Exacting preparations have been, and are being, made for the R. O. T. C. Circus, Government Inspection, and, last but far from least, Field Day.

Mañana, or Where Do We Go From Here?

Let us paint a picture of the future for you. The war has long been over and America is once again in an economic boom unparalleled since the "Roaring Twenties." The time 1967—exactly twenty-five years from graduation day. At that time Central's Alumni of '42 will be in their early forties. Youth, while it has not gone, is considerably worn. Temples are graying on some, while wrinkles, jowls, and thickening figures have begun to plague the no-longer young members of the '42 class.

The scene is a ballroom at a downtown Kansas City hotel, the occasion is the reunion of Central's '42 class. Greeting former class members at the door are the principal and vice-principal of Central High, a scholarly gentleman sporting a pince-nez named Bill Dietrich and that charming personality Thelma French, respectively. As the time for the banquet approaches, many personages come in. Some are easily recognizable, while others have undergone considerable changes since we last knew them. A murmur sweeps over the crowd as the widely known authoress, Clementine Clinch (nom de plume of Billie Anderson), is escorted in by her husband, a prominent lawyer. Two jovial characters who boisterously skip in are the "Beer Baron Brewers," Harold Browning and Herman Epstein. According to latest reports in Bill Brooks' "Around Town" column, Harold is financing Herman in the latter's newest enterprise, B & E's Lager Beer in cardboard containers. As we look around at our aging classmates, some of whom look like the proverbial "busted bale of hay," our attention is directed to an athletic figure who proves an exception to the rule. The tall, handsome man with the thinning gray hair turns out to be none other than the class president, Clarence (Bud) French, former baseball star and present owner-manager of the New York Yankees. A dramatic looking figure talking to Ellen Hall, the society column editor of the New York Times, is none other than Mary Virginia Skinner, successor to Dorothy Thompson. The mayor of Kansas City, Charles Comstock, enters chatting with his old chum, Brigadier-General Dave Finke, about the things that they used to do when they were in the army. Shirley Oelschlaeger (Mrs. B. Bernard Bullion, now the wife of a multi-millionaire, enters majestically swathed in ermine and jewels. As we look over this passing generation of Centralites we realize that they are all married and have families—with several notable exceptions. That dashing galante, Lester Kessler, the screen's "greatest lover," the "John Barrymore" of his day has never wed because of B.O. (that's box office in case you're in doubt). Lester, whose screen name is Sylvester Antonio, is currently co-starred with another much proposed to, but unmarried actress in "Henry and His Wives." That actress, known as "America's Sweetheart," is a particularly well preserved specimen of American glamour, our own Eleanor Breitag. The picture is another Bill Wheat extravaganza. Speaking of pictures our attention is directed to an amicable chap with a spade beard and bay window named Timothy Matthews. Timmy is the famous architectural engineer who revolutionized the movie industry by introducing Einstein's 4th dimension. A reputedly confirmed bachelor, whose recent engagement to Senorita Hoochie-Coochie, daughter of the President of Argentina, caused a tidal-wave of comment in diplomatic circles, is a tall, portly gentleman, with prematurely white hair. He is the U. S. Senator from Missouri, Robert Staiger. The "pleasingly plump" little lady whose bald pated husband is G. Gifford Whiffle, the famous paleontologist, is Betsy Wilson. She married a few years after graduation and now has a grandchild. As the time draws near for dinner, glib, silver-tongued, "Legal Eagle" George Robertson enters, noisily chatting with client Bob Riley who has been charged with assault and battery on ex-heavyweight champ, Calvin Keen. As the guests sit down to dinner that irate figure of international finance, Bob Line, enters scowling and leaning on the arm of his personal physician, Dr. Richard Schlesinger, who incidentally is president of the International Medical Association. After dinner speeches are made and we learn of other figures who have found their "place in the sun," such as: Lizzie Feiring is the recently appointed Secretary of Labor; Jim Brooks and Dick Hudson are the owners of a nation-wide milk combine; Mary Louise Meinsen is the first lady president of Rocket Skyways, Incorporated; and Tommy Bramlette, Roland Torres, and Barbara Hiltabidel are members of the Kansas City School Board. The pictures for this festive occasion are taken by Norman Sudvarg, the photographer for Marian Mowry's widely known fashion magazine, "Hoy." After dinner an orchestra from Sloppy Joe's Cafes, Inc. (a Jose Gaba-Arnoldo Botwinik enterprise), plays an old fashioned tune entitled "Jersey Bounce" and tears swell into the eyes of "old timers" as Joe Rodier, soldier of fortune and foreign news correspondent grabs "Wee Natalie Kaye" (Natalie Kahn), darling of the air waves and begins to dance like they used to dance before "Zoombie" superseded "Swing."

Perhaps you're thinking that this forecast of the future is a little far-fetched. Maybe it is—but twenty-five years from now don't say that we didn't warn you.

Year's Almanac

With the publication and distribution of this annual,
Our work is through, both mental(?) and manual.
The School Year is at its end, but we'll not soon forget:

When senior test was done,
The pale and worried faces coming out of 301;
And the gay ones, in football days,
When, charmed by Buddie's "taking" ways,
We'd holler, "Pardon my French:"
And we even liked the fellas who always warmed the bench.
"Chattanooga Choo Choo" was our song—
But then with Miller you could never go wrong.
"Blues in the Night," and "White Cliffs of Dover"
Helped to put other bands over.

Red Skelton rode the airways, and most every cub
Filled the halls with, "Let's not doe detting nodey, bub."
We craved our Mixers, and our school Band
Was very zoot! We crammed
For a test, and did our best,
But then a "shotgun" feathered our nest.
We had our hep talk, too, filled with cockey brass,
Such as "I'm chilled" and, "Now, you're cooking with gas."
Despite these versions of diversion, we weren't really crude
Or frivolous in mood.
Serious matters
Also filled our corridor chatters.

On Monday,
After that most momentous Sunday,
We met to hear our fate. With a deep patriotic sense,
We went "all-out" for defense.

School went on the same, except for Registration and air raid drills.

Pigtails blossomed and boys found "Pegs"
Doing queer things to their legs.
With luck, papers came out weakly—
Pardon me, I mean weekly,
But we still stayed here late
Keeping the news up to date.
Slug lines took time, but "Pop's"
Food was tops.
G. R. gave the gals a chance
To choose with whom they wished to dance.

'Twas in front hall's "Lover's Lane"
That met the twain
Who Consolidated and Hopped. Lockers proved the bane
Of our existence, when after we'd walked in the rain
For a great distance, they refused admittance.
The Centralian campaign did not lag,
'Till everybody wore a tag.
Varsity Vagaries was perfection
And a triumph for student direction.
The old auditorium swelled
When our new Pep Club yelled.
Student Council did its part
To start
The school off right. "Lit" clubs led a sainted life
While above them hung the knife.

Defense stamps on Thursdays was the best that most could do,
But Central did have marines and sailor boys in blue.
Spring play starred our Ham-lets, and Intersociety made us see:
That the school year was at its end,
And soon would part old friend from friend.
No more would we know, mass assemblies and their jam,
Studying for that last exam,
The joys of the five minute bell, the boys in loud
Socks, the girls proud
In jackets
Causing rackets.
We always stopped for cokes
And then our folks
Wondered why our food got cold—
And our stories old.

Grade card days would come and go,
Filling some with woe;
But they were usually better
Than we though we'd get—er—
That just goes for some
Who realize they're dumb.
In these four years we've got around,
And without exception found,
That the teachers
Are really peachers,
And if you'll just go half way,
You'll get ample pay.
But for us unlucky seniors, graduation time is nigh,
Leaving us with poignant memories of dear old CENTRAL HI!

Proverbs—North and South

North American: Silence is golden.

Latin American: En boca cerrada no entran las moscas.

When the twenty-one nations of the New World proclaim "the existence of a common democracy throughout America" and proclaim their faith in the most enlightened practice possible in the dealings of one state with another That declaration of policy not only gives assurance that we of this hemisphere can maintain peace among ourselves but also holds out hope to war-weary peoples in other parts of the world that right and justice and fair dealing and liberty still exist.
